- Contact over Slack. If there are any issues with designing the content please let me know ASAP.
- I will be providing a folder of images. I leave up to your discretion of how many you decide to use.
- Prioritize the horizontal scrolling functionality, don't worry too much about how the website looks specifically. A minimal page design of just text and complementary image/background will do just fine.
- HOWEVER for the mockups do try to think about how things look design-wise.
- Not all the text has to be included from the wikipedia page exactly. Some recommended sections include the main Introduction, Premise (and maybe Setting but not required perhaps), Production, Media (this could be divided into separate sections for Manga, Anime, and Miscellaneous), Reception, and Awards
- If the content proves too much we can only use information about the Manga and not the Anime.
